Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone, fax, web site, email or post. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on November 7, 2012.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you after the closing date, November 7, 2012.

If you are ever in the area, stop in to see us! Of course, it's best to call first. Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. reserves the right to refuse any bids.

Less than 20 specimens exist of which a good number have the face of Alexander off the flan. Mint State ..... 115000

Unpublished Die

20. CARTHAGE; 350-320 BC. Gold Stater, 9.30g. Jenkins/Lewis-close to 66. Obv: Tanit crowned with gratin, Rx: Horse. Ex NFA, XXXIII 1994, lot 330. The Jenkins and Lewis work on Carthage is very complete. There are very few times when we have not found a die represented. This is one of those times. The sub-class are dies #61-68. This is painfully close to #66, but is not. The thing that sets off this small sub-class is a strand of hair coming out from the back of her neck under her hair bun. The other interesting aspect of this coin is that the two wheat ears are nearly parallel where as normally the second one is almost at a 90 degree angle to the first. This particular coin has a little bit of a Punic hardness but a lot of the Sicilian sweetness. Exquisite Mint State ..... 13750

Historically Important

21. CASSIUS; 42 BC, struck by Lentulus Spinther for Cassius, Minted at Smyrna, Aureus, 7.99g. Cr-500/2, Syd-1306 (R7), Bahrfeldt-58, Sear, Imperators-220. Obv: [C] CASSI IMP [L] EIBERTAS Laureate head of Libertas r. Rx: Ewer and lituus, below, LENTVLVS SPINT. This rare coinage was probably struck at Smyrna, in conjunction with the meeting of Cassius and Brutus there in early 42 BC. Bold VF ..... 15500

Obv: Head of the nymph Euboia to r., wearing half-moon shaped earring, necklace and with her hair up. Rx: EYB Cow lying r.; above grapes hanging from stalk; all within shallow incuse square. Ex Harlan J. Berk Ltd., List No. 1, April 1974, lot 83 (cover coin) Ex Dr. J. Hewitt T. Judd Collection, 1950s This coin was purchased by the famous author of the U.S. Pattern book Dr. Hewitt T. Judd of Wichita, Kansas in the 1950s. In the 1960s thieves broke into his house hoping to steal his U.S. pattern collection, instead they took his ancient coins. These were then kept in the home of a mafia member for at least a decade. When they came into the market in about 1970 they were quickly identified as the stolen coins of Dr. Judd. When we brought the coins years later to show them to Dr. Judd, then a man in his mid-80s, he said with a twinkle in his eye that these were not his coins. Of course the insurance company had already paid him a princely sum for his stolen collection. While the head of the Nymph Euboia is archaized and somewhat pedestrian, the reverse is exquisite. The artist had a wonderful knowledge of the cows of Euboea and this one reclines beautifully on the planchet with a lush bunch of grapes above. EF .....	45000

314. MYRIA, TRALLES; c. 166-160 BC (?). Cistophoric Didrachm, 5.80g. Obv: Club, over which a lion's skin is draped, all within wreath. Rx: Bunch of grapes, placed upon a large vine leaf; to l., mintmark TPA; to r., uncertain symbol, perhaps eagle standing r., head l., on thunderbolt. Unfortunately the symbol on this rare cistophoric didrachm is somewhat unclear. If the symbol is eagle standing right, head left, on thunderbolt, our coin would be the first attested didrachm in Kleiner/Noe's Series 2. The mintmark TPA rather than the normal TPAA, otherwise attested only in Kleiner/Noe's Series 1a (p. 60), might seem to confirm the early date. But that identification of the symbol must remain doubtful, since our coin is stylistically quite different from the known didrachms of Kleiner/Noe's succeeding Series 3, pl. XX.1-4. Rx: Bunch of grapes, placed upon a large vine leaf; to l., mintmark [TP]AA; to r., head of Athena r. in crested helmet. Apparently the first recorded fractional coin of this issue, so an important addition to the corpus. The corresponding tetradrachms have, in addition to the same mintmark TPAA on left and the same helmeted head of Athena on right, a magistrate's initial A above, which is apparently omitted on the new didrachm. In his discussion of the Coan component of the Pixodaros hoard, Meadows recalled the traditional belief that the head of Heracles was a cryptic portrait of Mausolus and the veiled female head a likeness of his wife Artemisia. He pointed out that these coins date from the reign of Ada, not that of Artemisia, so that the reverse type is far more likely to depict the last queen of the Hecatomnid dynasty. In Meadows' view, however, a divine head is more plausible, either that of Demeter or an eponymous female deity. Ex Superior, 30 May 1995, lot 7603 (Lewis Egnew Collection). Obv: MAXIMIANVS P F AVG Bust radiate, cuirassed r., seen from front, fold of cloak on front shoulder. Rx: SAECVLARES AVGG around, MXX in exergue, cippus inscribed COS / X. Ex Triton XIII, 5-6 January 2010, 363. Two other specimens of this coin from a hoard, apparently also with COS X on the column. are published in Lyon, Supplement II, 676h-c; ours may be only the fourth recorded. This curious reverse type, which has puzzled numismatists for centuries, seems to be an adaptation of the similar Saecular Games type of Philip I to commemorate Diocletian's decennial vows. The legend SAECVLARES AVGG and the type of cippus inscribed COS in the top line have been taken over from Philip's type, which showed the monumental marble inscription set up to record and commemorate his millennial games of 248. The X beneath the COS on the cippus, however, together with MXX added in the exergue, must refer to Diocletian's decennialia, VOTIS X MVLTIS XX, as on the contemporaneous Lugdunese antoniniani with reverse VOT / X M / XX in three lines in wreath. Diocletian, after all, was only COS V in 294, and not COS X until 308, three years after his abdication in 305! It may be doubted whether there was actually anything "saecular" or any connection to the birthday of Rome in the celebration of Diocletian's decennialia in 293-4; this may be just a conceit of the mint of Lugdunum to commemorate what were in fact ordinary decennial celebrations. See Bastien's discussion, with a somewhat different interpretation, in Lyon, pp. 73-75. A great rarity of major importance. Mint State with silvering.....1950

621. REMARKABLE BUST OF CONSTANTINOPOLIS ON ANONYMOUS SILVER FRACTION STRUCK FOR THE CITY'S DEDICATION Constantinople, 330 AD, AR one-third siliqua, 1.04. Simon Bendall, Anonymous Silver. Rev. Num. 158, 2002, no. 4; Cohen Constantine II-287 (80 Fr.). Obv: No legend. Draped bust of Constantinopolis r., seen from front, wearing pearl diadem with semicircular extension above ear and ties at back, and pearl necklace. Rx: Large letter K. Fine border of dots on both sides. The portrait on this rare coin has been identified as Fausta (Cohen, Fausta-23), Helena (D. Vagi, Coinage and History II, no. 3052), Theodora (Triton VIII, 2005, 1251), or Constantine II (Cohen, Constantine II-287), but the Greek K on reverse should indicate that she is instead the personification of Constantinopolis. The only other letter found on the early coins of this sort is the Greek rho for Roma, coupled with a helmeted bust of Roma on the obverse. And indeed, as Bendall points out, a portrait exactly like that on our coin, including the unexplained semicircular addition to the pearl diadem, is actually labeled CONSTANTINOPOLIS on an anonymous bronze coin, RIC VIII pl. 9, 106, which on Bendall's suggestion should also be attributed to the mint of Constantinopolis and dated to the celebratory issue for the city's dedication in 330 AD. Aside from the usual images of Constantinopolis wearing a crown of towers or a helmet, a figure of Constantinopolis seated, with her hair visible as on our coin and possibly also wearing a diadem, appears on gold medallions of Constantius II, Constans, and Valens, Ginecchi Medaglioni I, pl. 9.13, pl. 11.9-10, pl. 13.1-2, pl. 16.2, pl. 17.2. On this unusual type see Dressel, Berlin Medallions, p. 350, and M. Vickers, Constantinopolis, Lexicon Iconographicum Myth. Class. III.1, p. 304. An exceptional, probably ceremonial issue. Flan crack on obverse. Minor encrustation on reverse. Mint State.....2000

634. CONSTANTINE IV; 668-685 AD, Ceremonial Miliarensis, Constantinople, c. 669-674 AD, 4.08g. Rev. var. of MIB-60, DO-19, and Sear-1164. Obv: D N CONS - A - NU[S] P P Bust three-quarter facing, wearing cuirass and helmet with plume; in right hand spear held behind head, without shield by left shoulder. Rx: Cross potent over globe on three steps between palms. Our coin shows three steps below the globe and cross potent on the reverse, not two steps like DO-19 and the other specimen in Brussels that Hahn records. Moreover, according to the description in the Dumbarton Oaks catalogue, the portrait of Constantine IV on the obverse of this miliarensis is beardless, but our specimen, which may be from the same obverse die as DO-19 (pl. XXXII), shows that he is actually wearing a short beard. Extremely rare. Areas of flatness from striking. VF.....4250

Obv: DNO LEO - N - P A MUL Bust facing, with short beard, wearing plumed helmet and cuirassed; holding spear and shield. Rx: VICTORIA - AVSYS Cross potent on three steps, CONOB beneath. Apparently a flip strike, to judge from the visible fragments of the legends of the original strike, namely VICT on the obverse to the left of DNO LEO of the second strike, and DNO LE on the reverse to the left of VICT of the second strike. Our coin was struck by officina S=6, a new variety: previously this hexagram had only been recorded from officinae Δ=4 and I=5. Extremely beautiful and rare. EF.....3500

Obv: IMP CAES NER TRAIANO OPTIMO AVG GER DAC P M TR P COS VI P P Bust laureate, draped r., seen from side. Rx: IMPERATOR VIIII / S C in two lines in exergue, the army saluting Trajan "imperator" for the ninth time; Trajan sits r. on platform, extending r. hand and attended by two standing officers, while a licitor shouldering fasces stands r. before platform; the army is represented by (a) three soldiers standing l., all wearing helmets and holding shields, the first two raising their r. arms to acclaim Trajan and the third holding a horse by the bridle and (b) the heads and standards of two standard-bearers, unhelmeted, visible in a second row above the heads of the soldiers and the horse in the front row. After major victories, the army saluted the emperor "imperator" ("commander"), entitling him to celebrate a triumph in Rome if the Senate decreed one. This sestertius of Trajan, a similar sestertius with IMPERATOR VIII, and a similar aureus with IMPERATOR VII, are the only Roman coins to depict such a salutation. These three acclamations commemorated the first three victories of Trajan's Parthian war, IMP VII being accorded for his conquest

An inscription proves that Sicinnius Clarus was governor of Thrace during the consulship of Septimius and Caracalla, i.e. in 202 AD. Coins of Plautilla naming Clarus at several mints prove a similar date: Clarus' governorship must have overlapped with Plautilla's years as Augusta, between her engagement and marriage in 202 and her fall and exile early in 205. 685. PHILIP I; 244-249 AD, Rome, 248 AD, Dupondius, 7.17g. RIC-155b, C-100 corr. (Paris, 5 Fr.). Obv: IMP M IVL PHILIPPVS AVG Bust radiate, draped, cuirassed r. Rx: NOBILITAS AVGG S - C Nobilitas standing r. holding scepter and globe. In Philip I's final two issues, those that bear first Latin and then Greek officina letters on the antoniniani, only a few middle bronze types are recorded, all very rare. This NOBILITAS dupondius in particular is apparently only the third or fourth specimen recorded. R. Bland, in his tour of seven major European museums and the ANS, found only one specimen of this dupondius, namely the one in Paris described by Cohen. Only one further specimen, CNG 63, 21 May 2003, lot 1501, seems to have appeared in an illustrated auction catalogue. The Wiczay catalogue of 1814, no. 2621, also describes a specimen, which might be the same as the Paris or CNG piece, or another, third, specimen. Ours, which is from the same die pair as the CNG specimen, is thus apparently only the third or fourth such dupondius recorded. Since it was acquired in Turkey about fifty years ago, covered in heavy deposits which we have removed, our coin can hardly be identical with the Wiczay example. F .....400

NEAR EASTERN

693. BACTRIAN LARGE SANDSTONE COLUMN IDOL, ca. late 3rd to early 2nd millennium BC. The idol is of a gently tapering concave cylindrical form which flares out at the top. On the top and bottom surface there is a single shallow channel. These are usually done in very attractive stones, as in the case of this example, which is rendered in a pink sandstone with purple veins. H. 9" (23 cm) .....1650
694. MESOPOTAMIAN BANDED SLATE WEIGHT, ca. 3000-2000 BC. This unusual weight is carved from an attractive grayish brown banded slate. It has three spherical holes drilled on one side. L. 4 1/2" (11.43 cm). .....1850

695. NEAR EASTERN PROTO-LITERATE PERIOD CYLINDER SEAL, ca. 3500-2750 BC. Pcidmont/Susiana. A central double diamond with a rosette flanked by a large rosette and two small diamonds. 37 mm .....500
696. NEAR EASTERN LIGHT GREEN LIMESTONE CYLINDER SEAL, Proto-Literate Period, ca. 3500-2750 BC. Two ibex, facing each other flanked by two eyes. Above, two lines border the seal. Below, a small hatch pattern with small drill points borders the face of the seal. On the top or the bottom, 4 drill points surround the central hole. A very nice example of period in a patinated stone. cf: Ashmolean. 36. 24 mm .....500
697. SYRIAN CHALCEDONY SEAL, ca. 3100-2750 BC. A linear cut seal of two faces: both a cylinder and a stamp seal. The cylinder itself depicts a series of geometric patterns, possibly representing a building and a figure, mid point in the impression, of a man facing left with outstretched arms. On the bottom of the seal is a stamp impression of a solar rosette engraved with discrete drill points and simple cuts. The seal is pierced on the top of the piece, through an offset loop. An interesting seal, particularly because of the manner of mount the piece has (offset loop at the top). cf: Ashmolean, 729 a. Also see Frankfort, p. 232 and pl. I, c and pl. XXXVIII, c, j, k, for similar. 35 mm .....750
698. NEAR EASTERN LAPIS LAZULI CYLINDER SEAL, Early Dynasties Period, ED I, ca. 2750-2600 BC. A line of gazelle walking left. There is a double border on the bottom portion of the seal. This piece was cut at one point in time, likely to have been done in antiquity. A portion of the heads and antlers are missing from the seal itself. As well, there is no evidence of a top border on the seal. Very possibly from a double register. cf: Ashmolean, 106 for complete piece. 12 mm .....850
699. NEAR EASTERN STEATITE CYLINDER SEAL, ca. 2nd Millenium BC. Made similarly to a bead, this example has four sections with engraved pairs of flowers. Each section is separated with a two lines and at the bottom has a dotted border. Missing top portion. 16 mm .....300
700. NEAR EASTERN SERPENTINITE CAMEO BEAD SEAL, Elamite Provincial, ca. 1900-1700 BC. Cameo bead of two seated men facing each other, with a table in between. Behind them is a man standing, facing right, with hands raised. Partitions separate scenes on the seal. 20 mm .....500
701. NEAR EASTERN OLD BABYLONIAN AGATE DUCK BEAD, ca. 1800 BC. This piece is sculpted in the fashion of the famous Babylonian Sumerian duck weights, however it is pierced for suspension like a seal or bead. Carved in smokey agate. L. 13.77 mm .....400
702. NEAR EASTERN NEO-ASSYRIAN CHALCEDONY CYLINDER SEAL, Cut Style, ca. 800-700 BC. A contest frieze in cut style of a winged griffon facing left, head forward paw raised and phallis extended chasing a deer, rushing to the left head turned back to the right. Above, a Rhomb, star and crescent moon. Double entendre meant in the example, as the griffon is a masculine figure and the deer, a clear reference to feminine deities, particularly to Ishtar. The scene takes place in the Celestial gardens, as is evidenced from the plants surrounding. A chip on the seal above the deer's head. cf: BMC V 64 (var.) A significant example of Neo-Assyrian early seal work. 39 mm. ....1400
704. NEAR EASTERN BLACK AND WHITE MARBLE CYLINDER SEAL, Late Neo-Babylonian-Proto Achaemenid, 650-550 BC. An altar with a domed top, flanked on either side by winged recumbent sphinx facing inwards. Above, a winged solar disk. cf: BMC VI, 84 and Pierpont Morgan, pl. CXXVI, 841 (stamp seal), both Achaemenid variations on the subject. This seal, though very worn, is a very interesting and quiet rare example for the period. While animals flanking trees of

- life or altars are in themselves more common place than not, the lack of examples in at least standard references shows the importance of this variation on the standing sphinx. 23 mm ..... 950
705. NEAR EASTERN BLACK AND WHITE IVORY CYLINDER SEAL, Proto-Achaemenid Period, ca. 650 - 550 BC. Two rampant ibexes flank a tree of life. Both ibexes have their heads turned backwards, facing away from the sacred tree. There is a sun over the head of the left ibex. On bottom of seal: E 413 (Old catalogue number). The seal has been reconstructed from fragments (at least 3). Of extremely fine style. A very impressive seal. See BMC VI, 79-80 for comparisons. The style of catalogue number on this piece is reminiscent of the cataloguing of Louis Delaporte, former curator of the Louvre, (1842-1925) in that he would start the catalogue number with the first letter of the name of the collection, then give a number to the piece. Delaporte's largest cataloguing job obviously was the Louvre Collection, however this piece cannot be from the Louvre Collection because the museum has no Collections catalogued starting with the letter E. Delaporte was responsible however for cataloguing several of the most important French collections of his day, including Guimet and Bibliothèque Nationale. Though there is no match in the Guimet catalogue, Bibliothèque Nationale is a possibility but is an extremely rare reference. It is plausible as well to suggest that he would have catalogued private collections as well, not only in France, but for others as well in Europe, including private collections. In any case, even if Delaporte didn't catalogue this particular seal, the cataloguing number on this piece follows very likely the same type cataloguing system that French collections from the period followed. This is significant because it offers a potential lead to where the seal's original cataloguing was done. It is also worth mentioning here as well that the coloring on this piece appears to be deliberately done. The Achaemenids had the ability to influence and change the color of quartzite and Chalcedony using date sugar and heat. Bone is not typically seen done in this way, but it is equally possible that it could be treated in this manner, as it's a porous material. Banding was at the time a very desirable trait in stones as well, one that often shows up. As well, having light and dark sides on seals was used - see Rasmussen, 34 for a Neo-Assyrian example that follows type. Though it is a reconstructed example, it is an extremely fine example. 41 mm. .... 2000

708. EGYPTIAN LIMESTONE OSTRACON (STONE FLAKE WITH A HEAD-SHAVING SCENE), New Kingdom, ca. 1550-1069 BC. A comment concerning the function of chapels for worship in the village of Deir el-Medina and the function of lay priesthood follows from the book Pharaoh's Workers: "The workmen themselves engaged in the simple priestly activities documented; the villagers probably had no professional clergy, though some chapels had attached chambers or guard houses. Serving as priests for the processions they conducted ones, though the titles of "lector", "fan bearer" and "bak" (servant) are also known. From: Pharaoh's Workers, the Villagers of Deir el-Medina, Leonard H. Lesko, Editor. Cornell University Press 1994, page 90-93. A scene from everyday life is depicted here, where the seated figure, wearing a red shoulder-strap and attached garment typical of the New Kingdom, is attended by another figure, grasping a red razor in his left hand and steadying the attendee's head in his right. This standing figure with a delicately rendered face, is garbed in a tight-fitting kilt-loincloth and red belt, his right foot braced against the attendee's folded knees. Likely represents part of the preparation to attend service in temple ritual required of priests--though Ancient Egyptians regularly opted for shaving for practical cleanliness and hygiene in general. These stone flake drawings were created by tomb artists in an impromptu fashion upon stone flakes produced during the quarrying of tombs and inspired by events seen or remembered in their daily lives. A relevant scene of daily life at the apex of the Egyptian epoch. From the Theban area, village of Deir el-Medina. H. 5 5/8" (14 cm) 7500
709. EGYPTIAN DARK BLUE FAIENCE IMSETY AMULET, Late Period, ca. 715-330 BC. The four sons of Horus were responsible for protecting the internal organs of the deceased. Each of the four gods was associated with a particular canopic jar and its contents. From the late 18th Dynasty onwards the lids of the canopic jars were modeled in the forms of the four gods- jackal, baboon, hawk and man. Depictions and paintings of the four sons consisted of human figures with their characteristic head. Imsety protected the liver and was depicted as a human headed figure, mostly mummiform. Excellent style. Mounted. L. 2 1/8" (5.4 cm) ..... 950
710. EGYPTIAN FAIENCE PATAIKOS AMULET, Late Period, ca. 715-330 BC. Green glazed faience representation of the minor Egyptian amuletic deity, pataikos. The Egyptian pataikos, a small human figure with bald human head, standing in a pose similar to the dwarf-god Bes, is identified with 'Ptah the dwarf'. Suspension loop at back of neck. 712. EGYPTIAN BRONZE WINGED ISIS, Late Period, 715-30 BC. Isis was worshipped as the ideal wife and mother and was the Egyptian protector of the dead and goddess of children. A popular goddess, she was devoted to slaves, sinners, artisans, the wealthy, maidens, aristocrats and rulers. The Egyptians believed that the Nile would flood every year due to the tears of sorrow caused for her dead husband, Osiris. In our piece we find an unusual standing type with wings outstretched in front of her. She wears a bronze crown with a solar disk, horns of Hathor and a Uraeus adorns the front forehead. The right wing has been lost in antiquity. The feet of this piece have been restored. Mounted. H. 6" (15 cm). .... 2500
713. EGYPTIAN BRONZE SEATED HARPOCRATES, Late Period, ca. 715-330 BC. Shown seated, with shaved head and sidelock, Horus has his feet on the ground, his arms at his sides, and is nude except for a uraeus serpent atop his head. Horus-the-child is often shown seated on the lap of his mother Isis, nursing at her breast, but the square base on which his feet rest suggests that this piece was independent of a larger statue ensemble. 716. EGYPTIAN HELLENISTIC TERRACOTTA HEAD OF A NEGRO, ca. 3rd to 1st Century BC. This nicely modeled head of a black African is truly a rare piece. Sculpted in the Alexandrian workshops of Hellenistic Egypt, the head has a muscular face, and rounded African eyes. The ancient Greeks and Romans prized images of Negroes, since the black African - far from representing the typical image of the foreigner, an image of conquest and servitude - symbolized the exotic. As in ancient times, Classical images of Black Africans are much sought after by modern collectors. H. 2 1/8" (5.4 cm)..... 750

717. GREEK RHODIAN TERRACOTTA PLASTIC APHRODITE VESSEL, ca. mid 6th Century BC. Aphrodite stands holding the material of her himation in one hand, her other had at her side clutching the material of the chiton she wears under the himation. She is wearing a polos which is actually the lip of the vessel. There is a chip from the left cheek and polos. Crack at the waist, otherwise intact with no restoration. H. 10" ..... 3000
718. GREEK TERRACOTTA SPHINX, ca. 3rd Century BC. The sphinx originated in Egypt, where it was probably a representation of royalty (the body of a lion with the head of a man), the idea of this mythological monster found its way to Greece from the Near East - where it had in the meantime undergone the change that made sphinxes into women. Greek mythology writes that the region of Thebes was devastated by a fabulous monster with the face and bust of a woman, the body of a lion and the wings of a bird. Guarding the road to Thebes the Sphinx would stop all travelers and pose riddles to them; those who were unable to solve her riddles she would devour. When Oedipus was asked by the Sphinx, 'which animal has four feet in the morning, two at midday and three in the evening?' He answered correctly with, 'Man, who in infancy crawls on all fours, who walks upright on two feet in maturity, and in old age supports himself with a stick.' Vanquished, the Sphinx threw herself into the sea. Greek sphinxes became a familiar motif for the decoration of ancient tombs. She is missing her wings, and both forepaws, yet this sculpture has a strong and somewhat mystical presence. Mounted on a black base. Rare. H. 7 1/4" (18 cm) ..... 2500
719. ETRUSCAN IMPASTO BRAZIER, ca. 6th Century BC. Broad angled rim with a repeating scene of animals consisting of birds, horses, ibex and lions. This continuous frieze was produced by running a cylinder seal over the soft red clay before firing. Manufacturing of these pieces probably centered at Cerveteri. This type of brazier served as a container for coal fires. Rejoined from large fragments with minimal loss. Diameter 17" (43 cm) ..... 3500

The right handle reads: ΜΟΙΤΗΝΙΣ ΑΡΤΑΜΙΤΙ ("Diogenes, in the month Artamitis"). Probably Rhodian, but hard to interpret. According to Finkielstejn, p. 160, the name Διογένης must be strutt' off from the list of Rhodian archons. The name of the month indicates we are in a Dorian realm (Rhodes? 740. ROMAN SET OF THREE IMPORTANT CROSSBOW FIBULAE, This grouping of three fibulae found together many decades ago within the Byzantine or Eastern Roman Christian Empire, the center of Christianity during this time period. Two of these wonderful brooches are constructed of gilt silver while the third fibula is gold and engraved with a cross. During the reign of Diocletian or Galerius, no Roman would have displayed Christian symbolism as they persecuted Christians vigorously. Thus, it could only be during the reign of Constantine the Great, and then only after 324 A.D. which marks the death of Licinius, Emperor of the East. After this date, Constantine was sole emperor and Christianity could be practiced openly. The gold fibula must be one of the first representations of the cross worn by a Roman as well as one of the earliest representations of the cross, period. The fibulae, quite massive in relation to their typical size, are of hollow construction because of the value of the material they are made of and to give size with the logical weight. The gilt silver pieces have very large onion shaped knobs, a horseshoe bow and wide leg with notches and decorative volutes along the edge. The gold fibula is of very similar design with large onion shaped knobs and horseshoe shaped bow, although it is a bit smaller overall. The engraved cross takes up almost the entire surface of the leg. The pins of these fibulae are missing, otherwise, they are in excellent condition.....12500

745. MIDDLE EAST / HOLY LAND JERUSALEM BY: DANIEL STOOPENDAAL, 1716 (circa). Jerusalem... This is a Striking bird's eye view map of Jerusalem from the early 18th century Dutch hihles by Daniel Stoopendaal. The map was originally derived from Juan Bautista Villalpando's plan of Jerusalem. The view of Jerusalem is flanked by numerous religious icons and temple vessels, as well as two sculptures of King Solomon and the high priest. Above the map is a large, detailed engraving of the temple of Solomon. This map is in a rare and original, uncolored state. Map is in B+ condition with some light spotting and a few edge tears. 18 x 12 inches (45.5 x 30.5 cm). .....450
746. MIDDLE EAST / HOLY LAND HET BELOOFDE LANDT CANAAN DOOR-WANDELT VAN ONSSEN SALICHMAAKER JESUS CHRISTUS NEFFENS SYNE APOSTELEN. BY: R&J WETSTEIN. 1720 (published) Amsterdam. Het Beloofde Landt Canaan door wandelt van onsen Salichmaaker Jesus Christus neffens syne Apostelen. By: R&J Wetstein. This is an elaborately engraved map of the holy land looking west showing the travels of Christ and the Apostles, including St. Paul's journey at sea. The bottom of the map is adorned with a beautiful engraving showing the birth, crucifixion, and resurrection of Jesus Christ along with numerous soldiers, followers, and angels. This map is in its original uncolored state. A fine example of an 18th century Dutch bible map. The map is in B condition with rough edges and minor tears around the borders. 20 x 14.5 inches (45.5 x 30.5 cm). .....450
747. MIDDLE EAST / HOLY LAND MANGI TURCARUM DOMINATORIS IMPERIUM PER EUROPAM (MAP OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE) BY: SEUTTER / LOTTER, 1760 (circa). This striking map covers the Turkish Empire, extending to Greece, Arabia and Lybia, with the Caspian and Black Seas and Eastern Mediterranean. The map is filled with details of towns, rivers and mountains. The gorgeous, large title cartouche featuring the emperor, merchants, soldiers, and a lion was engraved by Abraham Drentwet Jr. Map is in B+ Condition with original color, some toning along the centerfold and some soil in the cartouche. 22 1/2 x 19 1/2" (57 x 50 cm). .....850
748. EASTERN EUROPE STIRIA BY: GERHARD MERCATOR, 1610 (circa). This is a delightfully colored map of Austria depicting towns, rivers, mountain ranges, and forests. A fine example of Gerhard Mercator's work with french text on the verso. Map is in B+ condition with some tears to the margin and light water damage that does not extend into the image. There is also one small hole in the bottom center of the border. 12 x 16.5 inches (31 x 42 cm). .....350
749. WESTERN HEMISPHERE AMERICA SIVE NOVI ORBIS, NOVA DESCRIPTIO BY: MUNSTER / PETRI, 1588 (published) Cosmography. This woodcut map of the Americas is based on Abraham Ortelius' classic map of 1570. Its distinguishing features include the huge bulge in the southwest coastline of South America, the extensive western coastline of North America, and the great southern continent, here called Meridies Terra de Fuego. Because of the restrictions inherent in wood block engraving, Petri's map is somewhat more generalized. A village of Quivira and the Sierra Nevada are located in present-day California. Inland is the kingdom of Quivira with those of Anian and Tolm to the north and east. Above the map are two elongated ovals of gothic German text and above that, in the upper margin a German title, "Die neuen Inseln so hinder Hispania Gegen Orient bey dem Landt Indie Gelegen." is above the map and on verso. Condition B+. 14.5 x 12.5 inches (36.5 x 31.5 cm). .....1850
750. COLONIAL AMERIQUE SEPTENTRIONALE DIVISÉE EN SES PRINCIPALES PARTIES. BY: N. SANSON / JAILLOT, This is a wonderful example of Jaillot's map of North America during colonial times based on Sanson's original map (1656). This map displays a number of geographical features and lack thereof that make this map an exceptional example of North American history. The most obvious geographical feature is the famous depiction of California as an island. Dotted along its coast are names of places still current in California today such as Mendocino, Monterey, Francisco, S. Barbara, and S. Diego among others. The space above California is blank since north-western Canada and Alaska had yet to be discovered by Europeans. In the north central part of the map lies Buttons Bay which is actually a very small bay within Hudson Bay. In this map however, it is depicted as a large open ended channel of water leading into an empty space on the map. This hinted at a possible shortcut to the Pacific known as the Northwest Passage. Many sailors and explorers lost their lives in search of such a route. One last geographic feature worth noting is the depiction of the Great Lakes. All of the lakes are miss-shaped, Superior and Michigan are left open ended, Michigan is shown to lay horizontally, Huron is shown to be much larger than it really is, Ontario is fed by a separate river, Erie is completely landlocked, and in there is a sixth lake named Lac Nissipirinién that does not exist. A decorative cartouche adorns the map with dedication to Le Dauphin and his coat of arms on top. Featured below are eight distance scales within another cartouche. 22 x 34 inches (55.5 x 86 cm). .....3750
751. COLONIAL REGNI MEXICANI SEU NOVA HISPANIAE... BY: JOHANN BAPTIST HOMANN, 1725. This beautifully engraved map by Johann Baptist Homann is one of the most influential and detailed early 18th century maps of the North America, the Mississippi Valley, Caribbean, and Mexico. It was made to illustrate the gold routes of the Spanish during their plunder of the Inca and Aztec Empires. The large vignette in the Atlantic portion of the map depicts a large gold mine operation with the natives filling a chest for the Europeans with the riches of their land. In the bottom left of the map is a fierce battle scene between many ships. The political divisions of North America are well defined for the period as they reflect the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 and French expansion into Louisiana the following 10 years. The border of Carolina is shown extending almost to St. Augustine (the scene of many battles) and all the British colonies are shown confined east of the Appalachians. This map is in A condition with original coloring. 22 x 18.5 inches (56 x 47 cm). 2750
